It is time to demand that our government officials stop devastations like the one on Young Man's Road.

Julienton Plantation developers say they plan for a development at the end of Harris Neck Rd. that includes:

- High-density development with golf course and amenities
- 800-900 residential units
- 120-room resort
- 80 rooms for guest cottages
- 100 wet slips
- Dry storage for 200 boats
- Unknown number of private docks
- Land Application System (LAS) sewage spray field

Take Action Now or

Kiss it Goodbye

It is the wrong type of development in the wrong place.

The proposed development site is located near over half of the commercial leases for shellfish harvesting in Georgia.

The proposed site is near Harris Neck Wildlife Refuge, home to one of the largest wood stork rookeries in the state, thousands of egrets and herons and large concentrations of ducks. Harris Neck Wildlife Refuge also serves as an important link to Blackbeard Island and Wolf Island Refuges, located southeast of Harris Neck.
